

Caution!

Crime Hidden in Latest News & Trends

Recently, instances of crimes taking advantage of the daily news or the hot topic news on the internet have been on the rise! These are really dirty tricks taking advantage of someone's interest or weakness.

Below are some examples of recent crimes. If you see something similar, be cautious and take care not to get tricked!

● Example ~Coronavirus and Cyber Crime~

News on the coronavirus is reported every day. As measures against infection, there is a huge demand for face masks, and some fraudulent Internet sites are taking advantage of this situation.

1 Phishing scams

Phishing mail such as, "We can send you masks, free of charge!" leads you access the phishing site of a fake delivery company, and malware is downloaded to your device.

Fake SMS

新型コロナウイルスによる肺炎が広がっている問題で、マスクを無料送付確認をお願いします <http://.com>

2 Malicious shopping sites

There have been reports of of fake mask-selling websites!! If even after payment the face masks are not delivered to you, there is a chance that your personal information or credit card information that you inputted upon registration might have been stolen.

Please do not open any suspicious SMS you receive!

Please don't shop at any suspicious-looking websites!

Let's stay informed, and avoid falling prey to scams!